Dear Sue Shwartz

In regards to your letter of Jan 29-03:

The facts in life with wind turbines is not as serene as the promoter would have a person believe!

They are noisy -- environmental noise does not cover this noise..

They do cause interference to T.V. (realize we don't have a cable hook up)

They draw sightseers to what was a private country setting. In the morning on sunny days our living room has a light and shadow display which is very distracting if you're trying to read or relax. The deer do not seem to be bothered by them-- only if work is being done on them. Beyond the "snick" or "train in the distance" effect you can hear a "thunk"

as they change direction.
As far as property value goes, personally I think they are a detriment.

I spoke to a neighbor that won't put anything in writing, but did agree with me, that values would most likely be lowered.

I hope that the people in your area are successful in avoiding having to live with wind turbines and their ill effects.

Sincerely
Barbara Fac
